FOR YOUR INFORMATION: B.S.R. A. Hdqrs. is in receipt of the following:

"For Immediate Release -- February 15, 1956 --

A most timely Bill, known as H.R. 9117 has been introduced into the Congress by Congressman Charles Teague of California.

The purport of this Bill is to confer jurisdiction upon the United States Court of Claims to "hear, determine, and render judgment upon the claims of the Electronic Medical Foundation, San Francisco, California, against the United States for damages alleged to have been sustained by such foundation as a result of the release, by the Food and Drug Administration of the Department of Health, Education and Welfare, of publicity adverse to such foundation between October 6, 1953, and the date of enactment of this Act, both dates inclusive, the release of such publicity subsequent to March 16, 1954, being in violation of an alleged agreement between such foundation and the Food and Drug Administration".

Hearings on this Bill before the House Judiciary Committee will enable the Foundation to present evidence concerning the Food and Drug Administration's unAmerican and bureaucratic methods and procedures to the detriment of small business and progressive research."

Letter from Associate H.T. Wilkins (Bexleyheath, England):

"Dear Dr. Meade Layne:

"No, except from you, I do not often receive C.R.I.F.O.,but perhaps, as there is a serious aspect of the UFO mystery here involved, you may care to permit me a few words about the rebuke, or reproach, levelled by Lord Dowding here against those whom he, with regrettable lack of logic, charges with 'acting in a way to start an interplanetary war' By that, he means warning incautious and too trustful men and women that all these UFO entities, in our skies, are not friendly. I suppose I am one very much concerned in this salutary warning, and perhaps, at the head and front of what his lordship evidently deems a very peccant, if very small, band.

"Whether or no, it has struck Dowding that I may have some evidence on which thes to him, inconvenient warnings are based, I know not nor care; for I fear that he and some of his friends are living in a cosmic cloud cuckoo-land, spun out of the iridescent, gossamer fantasies woven in the yarn of romantic adventure, not long ago unloaded, and very lucratively, by the truthful Mr. George Adamski, and his Irish coadjutor, Mr. Desmond Leslie. None of these men and their women disciples show any wish to emerge from these glowing illusions; but that is far from important. What is important is that men and women, outside this unsuspecting world whic appears to be hugging this illusion, or self-deception, will run, in the not very remote future, very grave risks if they adopt the idiotic advice of Lord Dowding and his friends of seeking close and personal contacts with UFO entities, of whom they know absolutely nothing, nor what objectives these entities have come into our skies to subserve, where all is so mysterious and unknown. Common sense, not the mark of Lord Dowding and his friends and disciples, in this very grave affair strongly suggests caution.

"At the moment, whether or not owing mainly to the tacit and 'gentlemanly' attitude of the British national newspapers, hand in glove with high official ranks of (contd)- certain government departments, there is almost nothing reported of the UFO. That is not to say that no UFOs are in our skies in these January and February nights. I think they are; but possibly, the periodicity of sightings shows a graph of decline, temporary decline. But it happens that last week, an urgent appeal I received by 'Special Delivery Air Mail' from a town in Texas where a young woman, mother of two children, and her maid have been, it seems, rather badly scared by some disturbing phenomena. Before, during, and after the night of Christmas Day, 1955, the woman was startled when her electric lights jumped up and down violently, her radio and T.V. failed, and there came a strange and vibrant noise from, as it seemed, somewhere aloft. Nothing was wrong with the power and light transmission. On the second night the woman went outside her house, and saw - some time after an air-liner had gone over - a weird blazing globe cross from S.E. to N.W., remain stationary, and then appear to ascend and take station apparently right under the Moon. The object was there again, the next night. The local air control tower spoke of the planet Venus, then in the Texan eastern sky, as it was here. To that, one may reply with what our French friends call le mot de Cambronne.

"I have been reading your 'Flying Saucers Uncensored'', she wrote. 'Do please tell me what you think I ought to do.'

"She wrote me that her husband, who, I suspect, probably 'blesses' me for having written that book-- was annoyed at her persistently rising in the night to watch the sky near the Moon. But he had rather incautiously bought her a telescope and a pair of good binoculars. She sent me a sketch which she and her maid had made of the UFO; from which it would appear that it is rather like a curious javelin, divided into two segments, and radiating a very luminous rear-jet; but assuredly, it is not any type of terrestrial airfoil. Whatever it is, it is a type of UFO not so far reported, and it appears to be watching, watching, watching the same region over Texas, night after night. (By the next post, a young university student of a very well-known U.S. university wrote me that the same rather sinister watch, night after night, has been going on over the borders of Maryland and Washington, D.C., by 'a queer white ball, of motion varying from zero to miles a second. Always in the same spot; my father and I see it from our car, on a lone stretch of road, at about 11:30 P.M. And the ball winks out and vanishes into nothingness. My father used to ridicule talk of UFOs and Saucers, but now.... It is odd that we always see it appear, traverse the sky, and vanish in the same region.'

"Well," I wrote to the lady in Texas, 'There is nothing I, or anyone, can do about it. Obviously, your local air authorities will not tell you what they really think, even if they have any valid opinion worth telling. But I ought to warn you: On no account, if it appears that this strange object should land, should you go outside your house and attempt to approach it and spy on it. If you try to make a personal contact, alone, you may run risk of abductions with no return.'

"Now, why did I utter that warning which Lord Dowding, who should know better as one-time Marshal of the Air Force in the Battle of Britain, fought not far from the very house in which I write this, would regard as 'a phobia of absurd character'?

"Hardly a year ago, in a region of woods and mountains, close to a well-known South American capital city, an ass of a truck driver, on the way to a meat depot, came suddenly on two queer midgets-- no, not green-skinned with one eye in the middle of the forehead!-- clad in a sort of plastic garment , with a species of 'scaphandrical' helmet from which two very large and glaring circles, like eyes, appeared. Their arms, bare and covered with down, had claws, whether or not of metal; and one of them was carrying what may have been specimens of earth, in a curious metal (contd)-- container. Close to the road in a glade of wood, hovered a few feet above the ground, a blazing Flying Saucer -- not a large one. The idiot, who had a pal with him, jumped out of his truck and rushed toward one of the entities, tried to grasp it and drag it into his truck. With enormous strength, out of all proportion to its size, the entity leaped backward, tore itself from his grasp, broke one of the fool's ribs and, but for the timely arrival of another truck, that truckman would haveseen no more of this earth. His pal, mad with panic, rushed into a village at midnight bawling out the police.

"Sure, the loco asked for it-- but wait a minute, 'ere, my dear Venusian roman - tics, you rashly make a false conclusion. Were, or are these entities, as here described, merely inoffensive and not malignant?

"Not many nights after, some miles away in this region, two youths, both illiterate, one not even able to read, and so neither had the literary or imaginative ability to have invented the story, since neither reads books nor newspapers -- were out at midnight hunting rabbits in these same wooded mountains with scattered farms, or haciendas. They had one shotgun between them. Close at midnight, they were startled, on entering a glade, to see come around the side of a sleeping hacienda, two midgets in what looked like diving dress and helmets, and one of them carrying a sort of conical bucket, with something in it. Not many yards away, a blazing object, like two Saucers joined together, hung motionless, hardly four feet from the ground. The youths stood rooted to the ground in fear. One of the entities ap - proached, its gig-lamp 'eyes' all aglare with malevolence, grasped the shoulder of one of the youths with the grip (he later said) of steel, and was dragging him toward the UFO. The youth was as powerless as a rabbit hypnotized by a stoat. He did not resist-- but the other youth pluckily upraised the butt of the unloaded gun, and smashed it on the malignant entity's back, some 2½ feet from the ground. He told the police, an hour later: 'The demon was covered with hair like black down, and the butt felt as if it had smashed against something like steel, rather than human flesh.' Even so, this terrified youth would certainly have been abducted--to hell knows where!--but for the sound of the engines of a truck ascending a grade nearby, which the entities evidently heard. They rushed to the UFO and took off at high velocity-- and the truck men saw the UFO, as they later told the police.

"Now, for the benefit of 'boo-hoo gents', as a Canadian fisherman-pal friend of mine once said, who titter in a saloon and tap their 'durned silly 'heads'', let me point out that there is extremely little encouragement, in that South American state, for humble men to tell stories like these. Often the local police, who know the men, may believe what they report; but the central air authorities and central police 'grill' them, subject them to psychiatrists, jail them, and cause them total loss of livelihood and chance of a job, with newspaper ridicule into the bargain, calculated to ensure them the derision of all who know them.

"Why is this? For FEAR! As in the case of other central government, military and air authorities, in far greater states and societies, the word has quietly gone forth: 'Hush it up at all costs! Who will champion poor 'liars' like these?"

I regret that CQC must omit the final and very entertaining paragraph of Mr. Wilkin's letter, in which Lord Dowding, while exercising his Irish terrier one starry night, is attacked by two malevolent midgets of enormous strength and hurled headlong into a flaming UFO - even as that whoreson knight Sir John Falstaff was hurled into the Thames inside the buckbasket. "True, Sir John did emerge - but you, my dear Dowding - what of you inside of that? "

THINGS DISBELIEVED but now considered right

We mention gently and intend no spite . . .

Many and many things were told us nearly a decade ago, about the aeroforms. We did not invent these ideas - nor, for that matter, did the Probert Controls either invent or discover them. Most of them belong to a very ancient knowledge. But we made bold to repeat them, without expection of belief.- and in this were not dis - appointed. But let us do the Controls justice. Already the interpretation they gave us is creeping in-and-out of many books, and from many other 'B o r d e r- world' communicators. I only point out this fact; the inferences are all your own.

VISITORS FROM SPACE - The Fellowship of the Golden Illumination (Eugene H. Drake, Director; 1014 Lake Street, Los Angeles 6, Calif.):

'For a long time space craft have had this planet under observation. We have been in contact with them since 1930...

'Some of these space ships are huge in size. One of the parent ships above this planet is at least 7000 feet long, 500 feet in diameter, with a crew of approximate- ly 2500 beings. . . They cruise at about 27,000 miles per hour, our timing. In travelling through outer space they use speeds far in excess of this. They do not carry fuel but convert the energy of light into electro-magnetic force ...

'They come into our atmospheric belts not in solid form but in an etheric form. Upon entering our atmosphere they materialize the ships into the density they are now using. The beings on these craft are (subject to the same process). They can move with great speed invisible to our physical sight... There are elements known to them of which we have no knowledge, which they mould in whatever form or idea they desire. . .

'The explosion of atomic bombs is one for the reasons for their coming ... The waves set up by them have disturbed the etheric atmosphere around our planet and also the so-called upper and lower heavens and the etheric beings occupying them - which are as dense to them as our cities are to us. All planets of our system have been affected. . . Wide-scale atomic bombings may require the elimination (by the etheric people) of our plants, laboratories, planes etc.

'Many of these space visitors are from Venus, Mars, Saturn, Jupiter, and Uranus, although some are now coming from other solar systems. . . The total destruction of civilization will not be permitted. . . And increasing number of space craft have been assembled in the upper regions over our planet. The beings on them number more than two and one-half millions, with millions more on the way. They are assemb- ling for the increased violence on the earth and to keep their atmosphere cleared... They have sent the fireball to (purify our atmosphere) ... There are over 250 kinds of space craft in the fleets above the earth. . . The Commanders use ships of the 7000 foot length.. . . The far side of the earth's moon is often used as an assemb- ling point. . . No harm is intended to anyone unless hostile action is taken against them ... A great number of smaller craft will be seen in the near future. . . It is easy for them to abduct earth beings and trouble-makers here may be dealt with that way ... The ships are easily made invisible ... There are several ways of operating the various types of ships ... There are beings living deep beneath the surface of our earth, especially beneath the south polar region . They are called Rainbow Beings and their civilization is superior to that of the surface people*. Another civiliza- tion has entrances in Mexico ... '

The brochure has 35 pages and I have made semi-quotes and summary only on a few points of agreement with the information given the BSR in 1947. It is not a review of the booklet. The chief interest is in the etheric interpretation.

(v. next page for continuation of article)

(Continuation: Re the Visitors from Space brochure just quoted, we have a last minute memo. from Director E.H. Drake. Fortunately, friends of our C.Q.C. are accustomed to our patchwork editing):

"This information was secured through clairvoyance, telepathy, and extended consciousness in semi-trance. We have a "space group" which meets several times a month - members who are clairvoyant. The space beings come in semi-materialized bodies; we take shorthand notes, and sometimes use the tape recorder if one of the group is taken under control. The compilation in the booklet was selected by myself but was seen by all the group members. We have contacts in the desert where we have a cabin but none of them 'physical' - no 'trips' in the physical, nor aboard any kind of 'craft'. We have taken pictures of Discs in flight, but too far away to be of real value. We have also had contacts with space beings on Mt. Shasta with other persons present, and have photographed Discs there, but not close. Four Discs were seen by myself and two other men, on Shasta, but remote - at about the points marked on the print I am sending you". E.H.D.

LOCAL SITUATION (San Diego area) - in reply to inquiries:

There have been, up to this date (Feb. 27, '56) 99 light 'quakes or earth tremors sufficient to affect the seismograph. The first and major shock occurred February 9. No damage reported in settled areas. About 100 miles to the south, in Lower California (Mexico), the shock opened a fissure 18 miles long * ; and numerous hot springs, now yielding about 500 gallons per minute. The water is at 81 deg. and charged with gas bubbles. Maximum width of main fracture, about 12 inches. Horizontal displacement 31 inches; vertical, 12 inches. The fault is parallel to the San Andreas fault line. Smaller cracks occur up to 700 ft. apart. A second faulting near by showed about two ft. vertical displacement. Adobe houses were destroyed and some horses killed by falling stones. (Correction: the length of the fissure is unknown - it was followed on horseback for 18 miles *) .

Assoc. Saunders Agrees:

The May 1956 issue of MYSTIC carries an article by a long-time friend of the BSR, entitled Probing the Flying Saucer Riddle. "I have let myself get a little fanciful with regard to the various theories advanced", writes Mr. Saunders, "but of all these it is my considered opinion that the most intriguing and provocative one is the Etherian or "4-D" hypothesis. This is the one I personally favor, and it seems to me entirely logical. I have made some lengthy quotations from a write-up in the Jan.-Feb. '53 Round Robin - The Nature of the Aeroforms, by Rolf Telano (or R.M.H.) - on account of its clarity of understanding. . ."

We call attention to "A New Series of Books Based on the Spiritual Research of Dr. Rudolf Steiner" - also headed as "Spiritual Science and its Practical Application in Life." This list contains about 60 books (and booklets), of which only five are by Steiner himself - but illustrates the widespread influence of Steiner and the increasing interest in his works. We mention this as a convenience to our readers & Associates. Write to METAPHYSICAL RESEARCH GROUP, Box 652, Menlo Park, Calif. or Archers Court, Hastings, England. (Not to BSR Hdqrs)

FOR YOUR INFORMATION:

A HAPPY THOUGHT FOR THE PEOPLE OF THE WORLD
- by - Truman Bethurum

Through cooperation and voluntary action of ten thousand "Friends of Peace" throughout this world of ours, a plot of land will be acquired near Prescott, Arizona, at between 5000 and 7000 feet altitude and in tall pines. Suitable buildings will be erected with sufficient quarters so that those cooperating, and their families, may come, relax, meditate, and get acquainted with other "Peace Lovers".

The laws of the land and the Bible will be the governing factors. A committee of five will operate this really non-profit "Sanctuary of Thought". Comfortable quarters for approximately fifty persons will be the primary objective, together with a meeting hall where all may hear and be heard. The "Golden Rule", the rights and privileges of others to be respected will be the limit of rules for attendance.

All costs of attending, food etc., are to be paid by those attending, at actual cost. Visitors will be admitted on a first-come first-served basis, to be decided by the Committee, whose decision and notice will be final.

As funds accrue and necessity dictates, further expansion will be made. A voluntary offering of $10,00 or more, with a further family offering of .50 per month or $6.00 per year will be accepted, to help with expense and maintenance of the Sanctuary.

Ownership will be vested in a Trust of Management. There will be no shares or stock for sale. The Sanctuary will be non-denominational, inter-racial, non-discriminatory, and non-profit.

If you believe in this thought, make yourself known.

The following clip, sent us by Assoc. E.S.S. of Buffalo, is of special interest in connection with our BSR booklet, The Morley-Martin Experiments, first printed by us in Flying Roll Alpha III and Beta III, 1948; now reprinted for the third time in booklet form. These experiments, taken in conjunction with the remarkable investigations of Dr. Charles W. Littlefield, appear to give conclusive evidence that minute life-forms may be generated out of inorganic and "non-living" matter. "The opposite of life is not death, but latency". As is too often the case with re-discoveries, there is no mention at all of the previous work by Morley-Martin, or of that by Andrew Crosse, or by Dr. Littlefield - the last-named being somewhat vitiated by an "occult" or "mystical" element. The whole 27-page booklet, however, is packed full of things to come (so to speak). But now to quote from the newspaper item referred to:

' Live Virus Created from Non-Living Matter: Two University of California scientists who created a living virus in a test tube today were credited with taking a historic step.. . Dr. W.M. Stanley ... said the step is "an utterly fantastic discovery on the borderline of life". . . The researchers created from non-living material a live virus capable of spreading disease. They broke down the virus of the tobacco mosaic disease and then reassembled it into a living substance they are convinced is the same virus. The reconstructed viruses can reproduce themselves and can cause the mosaic disease. This is the first time inert fragments have been put together to form living substance. . . The problem of the virus has thus been reduced to one of chemistry. . . Dr. Fraenkel-Conrat said the experiment involved two household staples, bicarbonate of soda and detergent. He said "it seemed too stupid to try; in fact it wasn't even a new idea". The next historic step, he estimated, will take another ten to fifty years. '

UNUSUAL PROGRAM

A most unusual program - to say the least - is the one broadcast by Thomas Edward O'Neil (Tom O'Neil), from a station at Southern Pines, N.C. This is not heard on the Pacific Coast and he forgets to give us the station designation, but says:

"I bought radio time for a year, got the best tape recording equipment on the market, installed a regular studio and record playing turntable, and do programs five days a week, 15 minutes per shot. I talk about life after death, flying sau - cers, and even announce and run spirit voices. I think I'm the first in modern history to do this. . ."

('Spirit voice' may mean a voice isolated in space, often issuing from a cone or 'trumpet - or a voice coming from a materialized form. In deep trance communication the vocal cords of the medium are usually controlled by the entity who wishes to speak. Any audible voice can of course be transmitted over the air or by telephone. - m.l.)

"I am good friends with many fine mediums (continues Tom O'Neil), and I do quite a bit of spiritual healing by 'absent treatment' - but I do NOT plug this on the air, though I have mentioned it occasionally as an established fact of great importance. I take no money for anything I do, and teach truths of psychic science as I understand them, without mysticism or orthodox religionism". (Underscoring mine. ML).

According to this prospectus at any rate, Tom O'Neil is doing good and courageous work, and one can easily believe the comment that "he is setting his part of the country on fire." We also approve of Tom O'Neil for other reasons. "What the BSR needs" (sez he) "is some kind of dependable operating fund to carry you through the year. The donations you get are very necessary and I take it have gotten you past several emergencies - but only over one hump at a time. Even a peanut stand has to have a little reserve fund to keep going. If you could get 100 people to contribute $100 a year, or even $50 a year to the BSRA, it would really take the load off and give you-all at Hdqrs. a chance to get in and pitch. And I'll lead the way right now with a $100 check." AND HE DOES!

All that Associate O'Neil is saying is of course ordinary common sense, or good business sense. The BSR has come to be a cooperative set-up and joint enterprise, as it definitely should be under the circumstances; it is designed for mutual service and is 'truly' non-profit. All past and present help is deeply appreciated. As for Assoc. O'Neil's suggestion we give It and him Most Honorable Mention. HON. MENTION for Second Place now open. Hon. Mention for Third investment also open. ALL HON. MENTIONS up to No. 100 open too. Hon. Line forms at Hon. Right.

UNDERSTANDING is the new magazine (Vol. I No. 2, Feb. '56) edited by Daniel W. Fry, well and favorably known for his White Sands Incident. 16 printed pages. Dedicated to "better understanding among all peoples of earth and of those who are not of earth. Monthly; $2.50 per year, single copy .25. Address at 4720 Peck Road, El Monte, Calif.

Of special interest in this issue is the six-page article by Editor Fry, entitled FIREBALLS. By implication the article confirms a statement made some five years ago by the M.P. Controls, that some of the fireballs are "wipers" to clear the air of excessive radioactivity. The fireballs 'do not look or act like meteors' ... also, 'it seems entirely possible that there may be a significant link between flying saucers and fireballs ... and that the latter may be controlled by the intelligences which operate the Saucers...' (Recommended - as is also the book mentioned, for a responsible scientific approach).

NEW AVATAR COMING MAY 2, 1956: (Prediction made in 1943 ?).

Maybe this is the right time to resurrect this prophecy - or is it? As a rule the one thing that can be predicted safely is that specific time-and-place forecasts do not 'pan out'. Assoc. Mrs Estella de Ford Graham (Box 14, Ruidoso, N.M.) re - minds us of this one, given out more than a decade ago by "Doreal" of the "White Temple Brotherhood". Assoc. Graham quotes the substance of it from an old memorandum:

'New Avatar coming May 2, 1956. Now 15, born in America, taken to Tibet at age of five, now in one monastery, parents in another. He will appear at high noon in New York City, at 42nd and Broadway. Every radio station will carry the message. Everything that is to occur on that day has been prepared for; the great demonstration which will take place, etc. Whole pages will tell of his coming, and there will be phenomena of earth-shaking importance.

'Sky will be cloudless over entire country - sun will then be blotted out and no longer seen. A glow of rosy light will come over all the earth and appear out of every material object -- out of earth itself, that will cast a light like nothing ever seen before, and a ray of light will shoot from the sky that will vi - brate with two unknown colors, and like a searchlight cleave the spot he is standing on, and when it strikes strange things will occur. Every person within a hundred mile radius, even if dying will stand on his feet, every person sick will be healed in an instant. That light will cover the earth for one day and one night, and vanish next morning. This only the first of miracles, each to be foretold beforehand. His star will be seen in the East - each person will hear his voice, and the voice will command that arms be laid down. He will teach in this country for 15 years, laying the foundation for the New Age. One year ago (1943 ?) Doreal foretold this. One hundred thousand to be ready to greet him. '

Ye Editor will listen to your opinion, both before and after May 2 next, with interest and respect. Please 'dunt esk' for his.

STUFFED CLUB COMPLIMENTS get better 'n better. The following is from Harold H. Fulton, President, Civilian Saucer Investigations, New Zealand; printed in Len Stringfield's ORBIT of Feb. 3, 1956:

"The London News Chronicle, 3rd January reports on the arrival of Professor Richard van de Reit Woolley to take up his new position as the Astronomer Royal. I see he has already qualified for his new job by stating that flights to the moon and flying saucers are "utter bilge".

"Honestly, it is high time these top-arrogant quasi-scientists took a pull of themselves and brought their idea up to date. Someone should recommend to the Atomic Commission that that body study the skulls of such men - their investiga - tions may reveal a 'most effective screen' against cosmic and radioactive contaminations. "

In this connection, there's a kind of symposium in Saturday Review for February 25, '56 - in which Prof. D. H. Menzel (no less) comments on Keyhoe, Ruppelt. H.T. Wilkins, and even Jackie Gleason, and by implication on everybody else who believes in such stuff 'n-nonsense as flying saucers. Since Menzel himself is not imbecilic the $65 question is, what interests are at the back of this last desperate drive to convince the public that 'nothin' aint happenin' nowhere to nobody'. The Menzelian tactics have always been very simple - to omit the unexplainable and fog up the whole situation with irrelevant scientism. All such operations may safely be left to the processes of time - yet it seems to me that people engaged in systematic deception of the public will eventually have much to answer for.
